

Dear Mansion Builder,

Last night, we met for our first monthly meeting. Here a recap of what we have launched ourselves into.

In the next week or two, we will have online availability to sign up for personal coaching in abiding in Christ - Mansions building - in His presence, promise, and power.

You can begin anytime by finding someone to mentor in mansions. You can immediately incorporate Mansions into your ministry and help people become Christ abide-ers. You can begin a small group too.

In individual mentoring, we want it to be me- to-men and women-to-women. Since we are disciplining people into intimacy in the Lord, it is important that we avoid the often misunderstood emotions that can be transferred and mistaken as something else between men and women.

We are gathering our teachings and hope to build a resource manual by July/August. I am including the first session of Mansion Builders training (April 5th) as a resource today.

Please send your discoveries, questions, testimonies so we can learn together what we are being given in Christ to mansions@jubileechurch.org.

Enjoy Jesus; He enjoys you. Spend your time in His Presence, abound in His promises, and enjoy the conversation. His logos is your operating system. His rhema is a particular app to get a job done. Learn His language and journey into His sound. Let Him take the lead. We are not nagging wives pestering our Lord to fulfill His word, but trusting wives resting in goodness and faithfulness.

Lastly, I shared scriptures that carry the word Builder in it as an exercise on allowing the word to enlarge and expand in sound and meaning through meditation and discovery. Below are the Greek definitions and the scripture references for your meditation.

Giving thanks for you always,

Steve
